

LIVED UNDER HIS HAT

William Gifford Charged With Stealing Maple Sugar.

SUPPOSED TO BE INSANE

Frightened Servant Girl and Entered Dwelling, Was in Arrested by the Police—Court Notes.

William Gifford was detected in Bun-ling & Davis' commission store stealing maple sugar yesterday and was run in. Yesterday morning he entered the kitchen of the Alrich residence on College avenue and nearly frightened the servant girl into apoplexy. He retired without taking anything, but perched himself on the front porch for an hour or two. When Fred B. Alrich arrived home for luncheon Gifford was still there, and in reply to an inquiry said he lived under his hat. He was ordered away from the premises and later entered Bunling & Davis' store. It is thought he is demented. He will be arraigned in police court today.

Court Notes.

John DeHoff, charged with selling a span of ponies which he bought on a contract, was arraigned in Justice Holcomb's court yesterday, but pleaded not guilty and will be examined Saturday.

In the case of Wickwire vs. Dupee, which has been on trial in Judge Groves' court for several days, the jury yesterday found a verdict of $110.50 for the plaintiff. The jury was out until 9 o'clock last night.

There was no session of the police court yesterday and Judge Haggerty took advantage of the full business and went to Montague on business. He returned last night.

Otto Behrke, who was arrested Tuesday for larceny from a dwelling, was arraigned in Justice Holcomb's court and pleaded not guilty. He will be examined next Tuesday.

The Monotuck Silk company began suit yesterday in the superior court against Alie Z. Straight on an open account on which it is claimed $17.75 is still due.

Julia H. Sinclair began suit yesterday against George H. and Charles E. Harrington to foreclose a mortgage on a lot in L. K. Rathbone's addition.

Kridler Convicted Again.

Andrew J. Kridler was convicted by a jury in Judge Burdette's court yesterday of keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He will be sentenced today. The last time he appeared before the court for violating the liquor laws he was fined $20 and was warned not to appear again for the same offense. He may get a jail sentence this time.

Charged With Hog Killing.

George Behn of Byron had a partial examination in Justice Westfall's court yesterday on a charge of converting Mr. Dutcher's hogs into pork. The hogs trespassed on Behn's garden, and he used his shotgun as a quick and effective means of extermination. They never squealed, but Dutcher did. The examination will be continued today.
